

A moment is pretty short. At first glance, this is not so tragic when you consider that the next one is already in line. But every now and then we have an experience that we want to preserve and share.

“Just A Glimpse” consists of a band of young voices from the German jazz scene who play compositions by Philipp Wisser. The quintet is based on both a rough, lighthearted and melancholy streak. The built-in opposites ensure good stories and a dynamic that makes it possible to revive many exciting moments for the listener.

Ruven Weithöner - trumpet, flugelhorn

Christoph Klenner - tenor saxophone

Philipp Wisser - electric guitar

Malte Winter - electric bass
